

Title:

Pandemic Preparedness for the Workplace

Running Time:

54:32 minutes

Target Audience:

Supervisors and Managers

Chapters or Modules:

- Chapter 1: Introduction
- Chapter 2: What is the Threat?
- Chapter 3: Basic Planning Assumptions
- Chapter 4: Workplace Safety
- Chapter 5: Employee Privacy Considerations
- Chapter 6: Avian Flu & the ADA
- Chapter 7: Medical Exams in a Pandemic
- Chapter 8: Avian Flu & Time Off
- Chapter 9: Working During a Pandemic
- Chapter 10: Influenza & Wage Payment Laws
- Chapter 11: Influenza & Other Workplace Laws
- Chapter 12: Planning for a Pandemic
- Chapter 13: Summary
- Assessment

Synopsis:

Pandemics have taken out huge segments of the Earth's population in the past, and experts warn that some form of pandemic will strike again, yet according to recent surveys, the vast majority of employers are completely unprepared for such an event. Pandemic Preparedness for the Workplace has been designed to prepare employers, their managers and their employees for workplace issues that may arise in a pandemic. Special attention is paid to ensuring that employee privacy laws and all federal, state and local labor laws are observed in the course of preparation for such an event.

Link to Demo:

<http://21stcommunications.com/hr/pandemic/>

